To clean a needle, draw up clean, cold water through it into the syringe barrel, flush it out again, and repeat. Repeat the cleaning process with household bleach. Repeat the process with cold water again.

Don't share your needle, syringe, water, spoon or filter

Use a needle exchange service

• Wash the site
• Change needles
• Avoid tap or bottled water
• Use new filters
• Don’t lick the needle

To clean a needle, draw up clean, cold water through it into the syringe barrel, flush it out again, and repeat.

• Don’t share your needle, syringe, water, spoon or filter
• Use a needle exchange service

• Arteries, veins and capillaries
• Only inject in veins
• Arteries have a pulse
• How veins collapse

Vein damage

• Arteries, veins and capillaries
• Only inject in veins
• Arteries have a pulse
• How veins collapse

DVT

• Arteries, veins and capillaries
• Only inject in veins
• Arteries have a pulse
• How veins collapse

Overdose

• Arteries, veins and capillaries
• Only inject in veins
• Arteries have a pulse
• How veins collapse

Injecting

• Arteries, veins and capillaries
• Only inject in veins
• Arteries have a pulse
• How veins collapse

Injecting

• Arteries, veins and capillaries
• Only inject in veins
• Arteries have a pulse
• How veins collapse

Injecting

• Arteries, veins and capillaries
• Only inject in veins
• Arteries have a pulse
• How veins collapse

Injecting

• Arteries, veins and capillaries
• Only inject in veins
• Arteries have a pulse
• How veins collapse

Injecting